

THE EUAN P. McFARLANE ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERSHIP AWARD

FOR OUTSTANDING ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERSHIP IN THE INSULAR CARIBBEAN

The Euan P. McFarlane Award was established in 1987 to provide recognition for persons demonstrating initiative, resourcefulness and leadership in promoting conservation and enhancement of the environment in the insular Caribbean, with priority given to the smaller islands of the eastern Caribbean.

Euan P. McFarlane, after whom this award was named, was until his death in 1983 actively involved in environmental causes in the Caribbean. He was a former Treasurer and Board Member of the Caribbean Conservation Association, a Trustee of the Island Resources Foundation, and a founding member of the St. Croix Landmarks Society. Endowment funding was provided by the late Laurance S. Rockefeller, and the program is administered by the Island Resources Foundation, an independent, not-for-profit NGO dedicated to strengthening environmental planning for the development of small island states.

Nominees for the McFarlane Award should be persons who have applied themselves to the preservation of the natural or built environment and whose career or avocation demonstrates an appreciation of and adherence to the advancement of environmental stewardship and balanced development in the Caribbean.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

Any resident of a Caribbean island is eligible for nomination, although priority consideration will be given to residents of the smaller eastern Caribbean islands. Nominations may be made by an interested individual or organization familiar with the nominee. Self-nominations will not be accepted.

CASH AWARD

Each selected McFarlane Award recipient will receive a US$1,000 cash award (there are no restrictions on the use of the award).

NOMINATIONS

Nominations should consist of a letter application from the nominator, not to exceed three single-spaced typed pages, stating the background, accomplishments, and merits of the person nominated. The nominator must supply the names, addresses, telephone numbers and email addresses of at least 3 other persons familiar with the nominee's work and accomplishments, who could be contacted for additional information. Attachments which support the nomination (e.g., press clippings, testimonials, copies of publications, letters of endorsement, etc.) may accompany the letter but are not required.

AWARD CRITERIA

Nominations will be reviewed by an impartial committee of individuals familiar with the region, and the award will be based on an assessment of how well the nominee meets some or all of the following:

- Nominee's role in increasing public awareness about conservation issues.
- Nominee's achievements in helping to formulate public policy that balances economic development objectives with sustainable development goals.
- Nominee's accomplishments in strengthening public or private sector institutions and organizations concerned with conservation, preservation, or resource management issues.
- Nominee's role in developing, promoting, or assisting programs or policies which conserve or protect key elements of the natural or built environment in the Caribbean.
- Nominee's potential for future environmental leadership in the insular Caribbean.
